PRYCE'S NET INCOME FOR JANUARY TO SEPTEMBER 2026 UP BY 15.4%

PRYCE CORPORATION ("PPC") achieved a 15.4% increase in consolidated net income for the nine-month period ending September 30, 2026 ("YTD September 2026"), equivalent to Php 461 million year-over-year growth from the same period in 2025. Consolidated revenues also rose by 14.05%, or approximately Php 2.22 billion higher than last year's comparative figure. This growth was mainly driven by the increase in the average liquefied petroleum gas ("LPG") contract price for the first nine (9) months of 2026.

For YTD September 2026, LPG and industrial gases remain as the largest contributor with Php 17.70 billion, accounting for 92.06% of PPC's total revenues. Meanwhile, for the same period, real estate and memorial park operations added Php 293 million, while revenues from pharmaceutical products amounted to Php 36 million.

As previously reported, PPC has declared cash dividends of thirty-three centavos (Php 0.33) per common share, payable on December 11, 2026 to all stockholders of record as of November 13, 2026. PPC has also resolved to approve the authority to engage the service of an investment bank that will assess the feasibility of listing Pryce Gases, Inc.'s shares currently owned by PPC by way of introduction to the Exchange, through its declaration as property dividend.

Following the previous disclosure on the removal of the pharmaceutical business as part of its subsidiary companies, PPC hereby informs the public that this will be the last report that will include the performance of pharmaceutical products as part of PPC's consolidated financial statement.
